County Fair Opens Under Sunny Skies

Activity centered in the show barn today as the Pickaway County Fair started its four-day stand at the Fairgrounds.

The largest class of 4-H swine in history was taking up the time in half the show ring, while in the other half the Future Farmers of America livestock show was going on.

Meanwhile, down on the track, the tractor-pulling contest was under way. It promised to be a long "drawn-out" affair, which probably will last well into the night hours.

The first drawings for tomorrow night's harness races were held in the barn at 11 a. m. today, with United States Trotting Assn. officials in attendance.

The midway opened up at noon, but most of the crowd was more interested in the 4-H and FFA shows in the show barn.

In the Coliseum the fair flower show judging started at noon and the apple pie baking contest got under way at 1 p. m.

THE FAIR OPENED in glorious weather today—fair and not too hot. The forecast for tomorrow is cloudy and warm, but there is no indication that rain will hamper fair activities for the next 36 hours, at least.

On the schedule for this evening is the horse show contest qualifier, a hair-styling show in the Coliseum at 8 p. m. and the top attraction of the night—a band music festival with about 15 area bands taking part. The band show is to start at 7:30 p. m.

Slated for tomorrow are a flower arrangement demonstration in the Coliseum at 3 p. m., the six-man football preview planned for 2 p. m. in the track infield; selection of the 4-H fair king and queen and round and square dancing starting at 8 p. m.

Harness racing also comes to the fair tomorrow night with three two-dash races on the schedule.

Friday is kid's day. There will be a horse show starting at 4 p. m., an auto rodeo at the same time, a style show at 7 p. m. in the Coliseum and harness racing again Friday night.

All Pickaway County offices will close at noon tomorrow and Friday to permit employees to attend the fair.

Most county schools will hold only morning sessions tomorrow. All county schools except Wayne and Washington will be closed all day Friday. Circleville and Wayne schools will be dismissed at 2 p. m. Friday. Washington pupils including those at Circleville High School will be dismissed at 12:30 p. m. Friday.

22 Harness Horses Ready for Racing

Approximately 22 trotters and pacers are listed for the first night of harness racing at the Pickaway County Fair tomorrow.

There will be three races on the program and post time for the first race is 8 p. m. Each race will carry a $400 purse, and will be run in two dashes.

The evening's program will be highlighted by a 24-class race, a 20-class race and a 3-year-old pace.

Harness race fans have an opportunity to see America's oldest driver display his skill tomorrow at the fairground speed strip. It is Joe Wolfe, who has been reigning trotters and pacers since he was 10 years of age—75 years of action, danger and thrills. Mr. Wolfe, who won with his Joe Slider over at Lancaster at that early age—received $100 for lowering the track record of 2:40 to 2:39 with his trotter.

Other outstanding sulky sitters, including Forrest Short of Circleville, are scheduled to face the starter under the lights and under the stars. Porter Martin, who trains here during the winter, has four starters going during the three-day meet.

JIM LISO, another trainer at the fairgrounds, goes with four, His Widow Creed pacer, is expected to give the other competition a lot of dust in the 20-pace on Saturday.

Fair secretary, William Cook, announced that this year's race officials will be as follows: Presiding Judge Bill McMann of Marysville; announced, William H. Leist of Circleville; Ed Strawser and Johnny Fissel will be in charge of the race; George Van Camp of Circleville is superintendent of speed; starting the races will be a Briggs Mercer gate.

The starting gate, a pair of metal arms mounted on the rear of a powerful automobile, is the one instrument most directly responsible for the tremendous increase in attendance in harness racing in U. S. and Canada.

The mobile gate was first used at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, Long Island, back in 1945. Since that time more and more fans pour into the stands to witness America's fastest growing sport.

Thailand Cabinet Shaken by Walkout

BANGKOK, Thailand — The pro-Western government of Premier P. Pibulsonggram was shaken today by the loss of 46 supporters in the National Assembly.

Marshal Sarit Thanarat, commander in chief of the army and a powerful supporter of the Premier, led the resignations of the 46 military members from the administration party Tuesday.

This influential bloc appeared ready to join the opposition, which favors closer ties with Red China and withdrawal from the U. S.-sponsored Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Ohio Traffic Accidents Dip

932 Killed in First 6 Months of This Year

COLUMBUS — Ohio highway traffic this year has increased greatly, but the number of accidents has dropped off slightly.

Fatal accidents in the first six months of this year increased by three over the comparable period last year, but the rate of deaths per 100 million miles traveled dropped from 5.3 to 5.2.

A Department of Highway Safety report issued Tuesday shows 932 persons died in Ohio highway accidents from January through June this year. The figure for the first six months of 1956 was 929.

The department estimates there was an increase of 200 million miles traveled on Ohio's streets and highways this year.

The total number of accidents in the first half of 1957 dropped below the 1956 figure. This year 75,535 mishaps were reported, down 58 from a year ago.

Highway injuries showed a similar drop. The department reported 37,439 injuries from January to June this year, 3 per cent fewer than last year, and 19 per cent below the 1955 figure.

OF THE 136,185 drivers involved in accidents, 13,385 or 13 per cent, were teenagers, the report showed. Forty-six were 85 or older and 880 were between 75 and 85.

Of the eight metropolitan counties, Cuyahoga, Franklin, Lucas and Stark reported fewer fatalities this year, and Cuyahoga, Franklin, Montgomery and Stark reported fewer accidents.

For the second year in a row, Vinton County reported no fatalities. One death each was reported in Fayette, Pickaway, Auglaize, Carroll, Coshocton, Geauga, Noble and Paulding counties.

Only 2 Ohio Areas Count High Idle List

WASHINGTON — Ohio has only two areas, Portsmouth-Chillicothe and Springfield, with substantial unemployment as graded by the federal government.

In both cases, a spokesman for the Bureau of Employment Security said today, the reasons for the unemployment are due to a great degree to local conditions.

Joblessness in Portsmouth-Chillicothe was attributed to the recent shutdown of the Selby Shoe Co. and a falloff in business in primary metals, railroads, construction and coal mining.

At Springfield, closing of the plant that formerly printed the now defunct magazines Collier's, Woman's Home Companion and American caused a good share of the unemployment.

The bureau defines "substantial unemployment" as above 6 per cent of the total labor force.

During 1956, there was no unemployment of that severity in Ohio, according to the bureau.

For the state as a whole, Ohio today has only about 2.2 per cent of employees covered by unemployment insurance out of work. That compares with a national average of 2.8 per cent.

Syria Reviving Its Resistance Organization

Anti-Western Move To Give Civilians Military Training

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Usually reliable sources in Damascus said today Syria's public resistance organization was resuming "immediate operations."

The organization was set up during the Suez crisis last year to "mobilize public forces and give civilians military training."

The Syrian government was said to have reactivated the program as a precautionary measure against what it described as "mounting U. S. anti-Syria aggressive intentions."

The Cabinet met in an urgent session Tuesday, but announced no decisions immediately. Its session followed demands in the left press that the government order general mobilization, resume military training for civilians and declare martial law.

MARTIAL LAW during the Suez crisis last fall enabled a pro-Soviet army group, headed by the intelligence chief, Lt. Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, to gain the upper hand. Last month the pro-Soviet group carried out what amounted to a coup by gaining the chief command posts of the army and proceeding to oust many officers not in sympathy with its views.

Military training for civilians during the period took the form largely of drilling students in the use of firearms.

The Syrian government's action followed a sharp Soviet warning to the West Tuesday.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accused Turkey of massing troops along the frontier of leftist Syria, thereby serving as a tool of the United States.

Declaring Syria has reliable friends, the Soviet official grimly warned Turkey against any military moves that would plunge it "over the precipice."

Gromyko said that Soviet-Turkish relations have always been good "and the Soviet Union will view with regret any development which would cause them to darken."

The Russian charge of Turkish troop movements was discounted by authoritative sources in Ankara.

They said the Turkish army normally holds maneuvers at this time of year. Any operations near the Syrian border are only routine exercises and have no connection with recent developments in Syria, they added.

SYRIA AND Jordan appear to be trying to apply the brake to suspicion between Arab states by abruptly putting emphasis on the ancient Arab-Israeli enmity.

This was pointed up by reports of a new Israeli-Syrian border clash, the first reported frontier incident since July 9.

Syria charged that three Israeli armored cars fired on two Arab villages, killing one civilian.

An Israeli Army spokesman countered with a charge that Syrian positions opened fire on Israeli tractor drivers working in their fields.

Veteran observers in Cairo expressed belief that the Israeli-Syrian border is the area to watch during the current crisis.

They discounted the possibility of armed conflict between Syria and its Arab neighbors, but said increasing tension may push Syria and Israel into some kind of armed clash.

Maxwell House Cutting Its Price on Coffee

HOBOKEN, N. J. — The cost of coffee headed lower today.

The Maxwell House division of General Foods Corp. announced a reduction of three cents a pound in the wholesale price of its grocery packed, regular grind Maxwell House and Sanka coffees.

At the same time, Maxwell House slashed two cents a pound from the wholesale price of its grocery packet, regular brands.

NASHVILLE POLICE CHILL RACIAL TROUBLEMAKERS

NASHVILLE SCHOOL BLAST — In Nashville, Tenn., police made wholesale arrests to thwart further integration-sparked violence after the dynamiting of Hattie Cotton school — a $500 thousand, 15-room structure. It was one of the seven schools which admitted Negro students for the first time.

Arkansas Chief Preparing for Court Hearing

Faubus Rounding Up Evidence To Prove Violence Expected

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. Orval Faubus, soon to have his "day in court," was marshaling evidence today to convince the U. S. government that racial violence would have exploded in Little Rock if he had not barred Negroes from enrolling in a high school here.

"It will be all forms of evidence, documentary and through witnesses," the governor said.

Faubus quietly accepted a summons Tuesday to appear Sept. 20 before U. S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies, whose actions he has described as "arbitrary and high-handed."

At issue is the federal government's petition for a preliminary injunction, restraining Faubus from interfering with the integration of Central High School.

Armed guards have been on duty there, turning away Negroes.

The governor says he still feels he did the right thing, and that it was necessary to ring the school with National Guardsmen.

The guards will remain on duty at the school but in smaller numbers, he told newsmen. "The rules are the same," he said, meaning that Negroes would not be permitted to enter.

"TENSION has lessened somewhat in that area," he said when asked why the guard had been reduced.

That checked with observations of reporters who stood watching at Central High School and at North Little Rock High School in a neighboring community across the Arkansas River.

Only a handful of people gathered near the two schools and both cities appeared completely quiet except for a rock-throwing incident Tuesday night between Negroes and whites.

Crop Production May Set Record Despite Cutbacks

WASHINGTON — U. S. crop production appears headed for near-record volume this year despite efforts to cut surpluses.

The Agriculture Department's September crop production report, issued late Tuesday, said this year's prospects increased nearly 2 per cent in August to climb within about 1 per cent of the record set in 1948 and matched in 1956.

Given favorable weather during the remainder of the growing and harvesting seasons, the result could exceed the previous record.

This production is indicated although farmers planted about 13 million acres or 3 per cent less to crops this year than last to put the total acreage at the lowest level in 40 years.

Much of this reduction in operation was made under federal crop control and land retirement programs promising farmers about $600 million in payments and more than $1½ billion in price support aid for trying to reduce surpluses.

IF THE present production outlook is borne out, considerable quantities of corn, sorghum grain, oats, soybeans and cotton undoubtedly will move into government hands under the price support programs.

Crops which made prospective production gains in August included corn, sorghum grain, soybeans, cotton, spring wheat, rice, hay, peanuts tobacco dry peas sugar cane and sugar beets. Only in the case of flaxseed was a substantial setback reported. It was due to disease and heat damage.

The 1957 harvest will be top-heavy with livestock feed of which there already is a surplus.

The department said the total volume may be 4 per cent larger than last year's big harvest. The big production could unsettle market prices for corn, oats, barley and sorghums.

The big feed grain crop also could easily encourage another cycle of overproduction of hogs, poultry and milk and a resulting disturbing drop in producer prices of these products.

The department estimated this year's corn crop at 3,194,674,000 bushels and wheat at 923,268,000 bushels.

This corn estimate is 128,903,000 bushels more than last month's official forecast of 3,065,771,000 bushels. It compares also with last year's second largest of record crop of 3,451,292,000 bushels and with 3,120,484,000 for 10-year (1946-55) average.

THE WHEAT figure is 8,290,000 bushels more than last month's estimate of 914,978,000 bushels. It compares also with 997,207,000 produced last year and 1,131,000,000 for the 10-year average.

Production this year will be supplemented by reserve and surplus supplies accumulated from past crops. Wheat was grown under rigid marketing quotas and corn under planting allotments. In addition some land was retired from both crops under the soil bank land retirement program.

The department issued Ohio crop estimates for this year as follows: Corn, 54 bushels per acre and production of 184,410,000 bushels; oats, 39 bushels per acre and 42,239,000 bushels; soybeans, 22 bushels per acre and production of 30,888,000 bushels; tobacco, 1,536 pounds per acre and production of 19,810,000 pounds; sugar beets, 12.5 tons per acre and production of 262,000 tons.

Segregation Agitator Held Without Bond

27 Others Arrested Since School Blast Answers Integration

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Angry, grim-faced Nashville policemen, determined to "stop any more trouble before it gets started," arrested segregationist John Kasper and 10 Negroes as integrated classes resumed here today.

One Negro first grader was among the 390 students enrolled at a grade school here Monday. Then came the fireworks. A grammar school was dynamited and six white men were arrested. A total of 28 persons have been arrested as police shifted their tactics from watching to preventing anti-Negro demonstrations.

Kasper, self-styled "rabble rouser" from New Jersey, was seized shortly after midnight and held in jail without bond on charges of inciting to riot. It was his third arrest here in 12 hours.

The 10 Negroes, including two juveniles, were arrested by cruising policemen near various integrated city schools. They were charged with carrying firearms.

Asst. Police Chief F. W. Muller said some of them carried pistols and some shotguns and were taken into custody within two blocks of integrated schools. Police kept all outsiders from coming any closer.

MEANTIME, Mayor Ben West and city school officials sought a federal injunction against the Nashville activities of Kasper, already under two federal court convictions in similar cases at integrated Clinton High School, in East Tennessee.

West said he will attempt to have Kasper's bonds cancelled in the Clinton convictions, now on appeal.

The third day of integrated first grade classes, where the races mixed for the first time this week, resumed without incident but with continued sharply reduced attendance.

Police maintained roadblocks around each school, one block in each direction, to prevent outsiders from school grounds.

Judge Mitchell Van Zieveland denied Kasper bond in his third arrest, on a charge of inciting to riot which police said was based on a speech the New Jersey agitator delivered at the state capital.

Twice before, since 1 p. m. Tuesday, Kasper had been arrested on disorderly conduct and vagrancy charges and for parking in a restricted zone. He made bond totaling $2,500.

The police crackdown on demonstrators, an effort to restore order at the newly integrated schools, forced jeering segregationists to meet outside the city.

"I have a feeling that maybe we have passed the crisis," said Asst. School Supt. W. H. Oliver as he faced the third day of first grade integration, ordered by U. S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller.

New District 'Logan Elm'

Pickaway County's new "southeast" school district was officially named the Logan Elm School District last night at the first meeting of the new district's school board held in the Salscrack School.

The name for the consolidated districts of Washington, Pickaway and Salscrack Townships was chosen in commemoration of the historic Logan Elm tree in Pickaway Township's Logan Elm Park about six miles south of Circleville.

The huge and ancient tree was the site of a peace treaty in 1774 between several Indian tribes in the area and the colonial army of Lord Dunmore. The tree bears the name of Chief Logan of the Mingo tribe who is said to have spoken eloquently on the day for peace between the Indians and whites. The address has become a famous document in Ohio's history.

Selection of the name was made after the board held an organization meeting in which Dow O. West, Route 4, Circleville, was elected board president. Frank Graves, Route 1, Kingston was elected vice president.

NEIL MORRIS, formerly Pickaway Twp. board clerk, was appointed clerk of the new board for a term ending January 1, 1959. The clerk's salary was set at $1,500 a year and bond at $10,000.

By a majority vote, the board designated the Second National Bank as depository for the funds of the new district.

The board unanimously passed a resolution approving all contracts and commitments made with present teachers and school employees by the former township boards.

The board clerk was authorized to pay teachers and other school employees under contract and pay utility bills without calling a special board meeting.

County superintendent of schools George McDowell was authorized to ask the State Department of Education to determine the amount of state aid the Logan Elm district will receive. McDowell was also authorized to check existing school contracts with the Federal Lunch Program and with the surplus food program administered by the Office of Commodity Distribution in Columbus.

The board also heard attendance reports by the individual school heads present at the meeting. Oakley Leist, principal of the Washington elementary school said that 198 pupils were presently enrolled in the grade school. Washington high school pupils enrolled in Circleville High School on tuition basis number about 60 according to Leist.

THERE ARE 90 high school and 230 grade school pupils in the Pickaway School according to school superintendent Alfred Gabriel.

Walter Haney, superintendent of the Salscrack School, reported that 98 high school and 232 grade school pupils were enrolled in that school. The board set its regular meeting date as the first Monday in the month. The next meeting, however, a special one, will be held September 23 in the Washington School.

No Red Troop Pullout Seen

Hungarian Situation To Remain Unchanged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union dashed any hope today that world public opinion soon will force Russian troops to withdraw from Hungary.

The Russians made their position clear less than six hours after the 81-nation Assembly met Tuesday to debate a committee report that Soviet troops suppressed a popular Hungarian uprising last fall.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev asked the Assembly to drop the Hungarian question. He said Soviet troops were in Hungary "carrying out their international duties" under the Warsaw Pact. Sobolev declared that the "temporary stationing of Soviet troops in Hungary was strictly a matter for the Soviet Union and Hungary to decide."

Also before the Assembly is a U. S.-backed resolution calling for an end to "repressive measures against the Hungarian people."

IN INTRODUCING the resolution, Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States said the 36 sponsoring nations had faith that "the wheel of history can, with God's help and steadfast human effort, be made to move toward justice and truth."

He said Hungarians could be relieved of their troubles "if the Soviet Union, which exercises military power in Hungary, will respond to the judgments of world opinion."

Hungarian Delegate Peter Mod ended Hungary's nine-month boycott of U. N. debates on the Hungarian question. But he contended that U. N. consideration of the question violated a charter provision forbidding the organization to take a hand in domestic matters.

Mod urged that the Assembly dissolve its special committee on Hungary and condemn the committee's 150,000-word report as "intervention, slander and incitement to war."

Missile Fired At Florida Test Range

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An intermediate range-type missile believed to be the Army's Jupiter, shot straight away from the missile test center on Cape Canaveral Tuesday night.

The missile rose above dunes surrounding the firing pads at 9:42 p.m., its fiery tail twinkling like a star, and disappeared into a moonlit sky.

Observers five miles south of Port Canaveral said the missile began to level off just before its light disappeared. Cocoa Beach is about 10 miles from the launching pads.

Newsmen watching from here said they saw the missile, its nose aglow, for about five seconds before a roar pierced the distance.

Tuesday night's firing would not have been the first for the Jupiter, a missile designed for a range of 1,500 miles. Some observers expressed belief the missile was the Redstone, a 200-mile range rocket. The Orlando Sentinel received reports the missile's flame was seen at Orlando, about 60 miles away, and in Tavares, nearly 90 miles distant.

Air Force officials confirmed that a missile was fired but said further information would have to come from the Defense Department in Washington. The Defense Department would neither confirm nor deny that the missile had been fired.

4 of Dredge Crew Die in Ship Collision

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP)—A huge Army dredge sank in Coos Bay channel Tuesday night minutes after it was rammed by a Norwegian freighter. Three members of the dredge crew died, another was missing and six were injured.

There was no casualty aboard the freighter, the 375-foot Thorshall, which was outbound for San Francisco with a crew of 35.

The dredge, the 268-foot Rosell, sank to the bottom of the shallow channel within five minutes. The prow of the freighter knifed into its port side, breaking open two of three bulkheads.

Only hours before, the dredge crew had been presented with a plaque for two years of accident-free operation.

Most of the 50-man crew were below deck eating at the time. They rushed to the deck and some began climbing the rigging and masts as eight-foot swells broke over the deck. Three life boats were launched but one was swamped minutes after it hit the water. A fourth boat was battered to pieces by waves as the crew attempted to float it.

Buried Treasure Found by Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police went digging for buried treasure Tuesday on a farm in nearby Moscow and hit the jackpot—$151,000 in securities.

The non-negotiable securities had been in a safe stolen from a brass foundry here Aug. 25. Officers had a good idea where to dig. They brought along Robert Gambrell, 36, one of three men arrested in the safe theft, to show them where to start shoveling.

A glass jar holding $8,000 worth of securities was found in a hollow tree. The rest of the loot was buried in a wooded area in the metal compartment of the safe.

Impatient Ohio Bell Aides Staging Wildcat Walkouts

CLEVELAND (AP)—Impatient Ohio Bell Telephone Co. workers put a crimp in the company's operations with unauthorized strikes at several points today while contract negotiations were resuming in Cleveland.

All Bell installations were picketed at Akron, and an estimated 75 per cent of the company's 1,800 employees there were reported off the job in what both union and company leaders termed unauthorized walkouts.

Long distance operations were being manned by supervisory personnel on an emergency-only basis. Leadership pleas to return to work were ignored by the strikers.

In Columbus, where two downtown telephone buildings were picketed, John Haigners, president of Communications Workers of America Local 4320 called the walkout unauthorized. J. Phillip Gibbs, district commercial manager, was unable to estimate how many workers were out. But he said if the strike continues to spread, some 2,000 union members could be affected.

Columbus union members at a meeting held this morning voted to continue the walkout. Meanwhile, long distance calls from Columbus were being accepted only on an emergency basis.

"No contract, no work," read the signs being carried by pickets at Akron. The union's contract expired last Saturday midnight.

A strike previously set for 6 a.m. Sunday was not called, and negotiations between the CWA and Ohio Bell are continuing under the day.

Akron Fireman Dies In Basement Blaze

AKRON (AP)—One fireman died and 14 others were taken to hospitals after being overcome by smoke in a two-hour battle against a fire that caused an estimated $100,000 damage at a downtown restaurant and bar early today.

Ross Varner, 32, died in the basement of the burning Brown Derby. He was carrying the nozzle of the lead hose and fell down stairs into the basement where the fire started. Scores of patrons escaped unhurt when smoke began to seep up to the first floor. Cause of the fire was not determined.

gro and white boys in North Little Rock. No one was injured.

The North Little Rock school board denied a petition by the parents of seven Negro students to enroll them in the high school. The board decided last week to postpone integration indefinitely.

The big question today is: With relative quiet prevailing, will the Negroes make further attempts to enroll at Central High School?

Faubus said he believes it likely that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is "calling the turn" on the actions of the Negro students.

The Arkansas Gazette quoted one of the students today as saying Wiley A. Branton, attorney for the 10 students who tried to enroll, has advised them not to make any further attempts until after Sept. 20.

Rumors are current in Little Rock that a "deal" has been arranged between Faubus and the federal government. In that connection, newsmen asked the governor why he quickly accepted the summons to appear in court.

"No one wants to be a process dodger," he replied. "I believe in the courts. I believe in the law of the land. What would be the purpose of my dodging around trying to avoid service?"

Church Parley Delegates Get Unity Report

EBERLIN (AP)—Delegates to the eight-day North American Faith and Order Study Conference here carried a message of unity to their churches today.

The 800-word message, adopted in the closing session of the conference Tuesday, urged local churches and congregations to examine "the way in which it makes visible the nature of the church of Christ," to study reports of the conference, and to continue advances in practical united action.

Members of the 35 U. S. and Canadian Protestant and Anglican churches represented endorsed the statement. The Orthodox delegates representing five Eastern Orthodox churches abstained from voting.

The Rev. Georges Florovsky of Harvard Divinity School, speaking for the Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church of North America, said the Orthodox delegates felt "the views and language of the message were inadequate, misleading and may offend millions of believers."

In addition to the Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church of North America, delegates representing these other Orthodox churches dissociated themselves from the message: Greek Archdiocese of North and South America, Romanian Orthodox Episcopate of America, Syrian Antiochian Orthodox Church and the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of America.

morning dynamite blast which wrecked one of the seven integrated elementary schools Tuesday, there were these developments:

1. Fifty city policemen, in cruisers and on motorcycles, moved onto the state capitol square 15 minutes before a Kasper - called rally was to begin Tuesday night. The square was promptly cleared and one officer said simply, "There will be no meeting." The rally moved outside the city with Kasper nowhere in sight. There were no incidents.

2. State troopers were posted at the governor's home after a reported threat on the life of Gov. Frank Clement. Clement incurred segregationists' ire last year when he sent National Guardsmen to restore order at Clinton, 200 miles to the east, after high school integration there touched off rioting. Clement said he personally knew of no threats against him.

Rain Welcome, But More Needed

Although .43 inch rain fell here yesterday most folks agree that it was not enough to offset the near drought conditions in this area.

Local lawns and flower beds appeared greener and mor promising today but a seasoned agronomist probably would say they need more water to satisfy a thirst brought-on by dryness in August and this month.

The weatherman today forecast partly cloudy and warmer for tonight and tomorrow with not much chance of rain. The temperature probably will reach a low of 57 tonight with a high of 84 listed tomorrow.

Statewide Group Sets Up Campaign

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — The No. 1 record in the nation today is "Tammy" by Debbie Reynolds. No one is more surprised than Debbie Reynolds.

"I'm not only surprised it's a hit," she exclaimed, "I'm surprised it's a record!" Correct me if I'm wrong, but I would hazard that Debbie's achievement creates the first husband-and-wife golden record team. "Tammy" should have passed the million mark by now, Miss Reynolds' spouse, fellow named Eddie Fisher, has a whole closet full of the golden discs, symbol of the record industry's best sellers.

Lounging in the den of her Beverly Hills manse, Debbie told the strange history of her hit. She said she recorded the song for a scene in the picture, "Tammy and the Bachelor."

"But I never thought it would be put out as a record," she remarked. "I didn't even do it with an orchestra. I just sang with a piano, and the background was put in later."

"The Ames brothers sang the song over the title, and I figured their record would be given the big plug. It even came out two weeks before mine did."

She said she was in England when she first heard about the record. Coral had put it out, and an executive called her that the disc had sold 200,000 copies.

She admitted to being a trifle embarrassed by "Tammy's" success.

"I'm not even a singer," she protested. "I've got no business having a hit record. If I can do it, it shows what crazy shape the record business is in."

July Retail Trade Ahead of Last Year

COLUMBUS — The Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research reports the state's retail trade in July was up 2 per cent from July of last year, but was 1 per cent below June.

For the first seven months of 1957, total Ohio retail sales were a fraction of 1 per cent less than in the corresponding period in 1956. In July of this year, 17 of the 25 kinds of Ohio retail businesses checked by the bureau experienced sales increases over the July 1956 level. Largest gains, amounting to 5 or 6 per cent, were listed for florists, general stores, men's wear stores and groceries.

Armco Develops Stronger Steel

NEW YORK — Armco Steel Corp. has developed a new variety of stainless steel designed to allow planes and missiles to fly up to 2,700 m.p.h. or four times the speed of sound.

The new metal, to be used for the skin and structural parts of aircraft, is a cousin of two earlier types of Armco stainless steel.

The prime characteristic of the new metal is high strength at the supersonic speeds that generate heat up to 1,000 degrees.

The company said that other advantages include low cost, assured production in volume, ease in fabrication and corrosion.

The technical name for the metal development is PH 15-7 Mo.

Mass Gang Charges Paying Off

New York City authorities are now holding responsible all members of juvenile gangs involved in acts of violence. Chicago had already been driven to that policy.

Indictments recently were returned in Manhattan against 14 youths for complicity in brutal slayings. Seven were charged with the fatal stabbing of a 15-year-old cripple. The other seven are held for their part in a "stomping." A policeman's young son was kicked to death on an East 51st street sidewalk.

The practice of charging gang members with complicity has proved an effective answer in Chicago to the difficulty of establishing guilt in gang exploits. As in any slaying incident to a crime, the legal theory holds equal guilty all with knowledge of the planning and execution of the affair.

By charging conspiracy, it becomes unnecessary to prove whose hand held the knife or pulled the trigger.

This is a rough brand of justice as applied to minors, but one made unavoidable by the extent and gravity of the crimes ascribed to youthful thugs. It may be granted that such crimes are no real answer to the problem of juvenile delinquency. The real answer must be to correct conditions that produce youth capable of brutalities as unnatural as those mentioned.

As long as those conditions persist, so will the brutalization — latent, perhaps, if repressed, but not less ominous for that.

It must be recognized, however, that dealing with the fundamentals of a problem whose very causes are as yet but dimly understood will be a long, experimental undertaking.

In the meanwhile, for society's immediate safety, the young tough must learn that crime brings punishment—and learn it, if he must, the hard way.

10 Ways To Battle Inflation

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you one of those people who want to beat inflation but don't know how?

President Eisenhower has denounced inflation as our greatest domestic problem, a sure sign that it is no longer popular in all quarters.

But what can be done about it? The classical economists urge a general tightening of belts. But this could result only in everyone going around with a stomachache or a broken belt.

The surest cure for inflation is to reduce unnecessary expenses. This doesn't mean you should cut down on life's utter necessities, such as your daily ration of tranquilizers or a bottle of champagne every time your wife wants to celebrate a golden wedding anniversary. It means you should avoid those small needless drains that fritter away your income.

Remember, a nickel saved, even in inflation times, is still a penny gained.

Here are a few tested tips on how to make your money last longer and go farther.

1. Avoid colds. Nothing wears

2. Carry around a lot of $2 bills. Sooner or later a cashier will mistake one for a $5 bill, and you'll be $3 ahead every time this happens.
3. When you go to the movies, don't buy your popcorn in the theater. It's too expensive there. Pop your corn at home and bring it along.
4. Do you know a traveling salesman? Have him bring back free stationery, hotel soap and towels from his farflung journeys to Keokuk and Hoboken.
5. When you mail checks to pay your bills, omit stamps from the envelopes. Let the firm that is getting your money pay the postage.
6. Are medical expenses getting you down? Borrow pills from the guys in your office. Sooner or later you'll find a man with the same ailment you have.
7. Leave your own car in the garage more. Start hitch-hiking to work with your neighbor. If after a month or so, he suggests it's your turn to buy the gas,

8. Never buy your own salt, pepper or sugar cubes. All of these items are available free at the restaurant where you lunch. Fill your pockets.
9. Have you been giving your old clothes to the Salvation Army for years? Well, how about dropping into the nearest Salvation Army shelter and asking them, "What have you got for me this year?"
10. Adopt a money-making hobby such as taking in washing. If your wife objects that this is beneath your dignity, let her or your kids do it. Nothing builds character in women and children more than doing other people's laundry.

Inflation? Let the worry warts fret over it.

The fellow who really knows how to live ought to save so much dough during an inflation he'll find it necessary to buy a money shredder to get rid of all that green stuff piling up in his house so fast he can't spend it, or burn it with matches.

Both Parties Show Splits

By George Sokolsky

Out of all the oratory and untentious politeness which reads so stilted in the "Congressional Record," it is clear that the leadership of both the Republican and Democratic Parties is conservative and that the liberal elements in both parties coalesce as though they were one party.

What was displayed during the discussion, let us say, of the "Save-the-FBI-Files" bill was that Senators Morse (Democrat), Clark (Democrat), Cooper (Republican), and Javits (Republican), all so-called liberals, were working as a team against the bill and acting as though they belonged to a separate and distinct political party. And, of course, those who come within the orbit of the A.D.A. are of a separate and distinct party, no matter what label they wear as they emerge into positions of distinction.

In effect, there are three political parties in Congress, the Republican Party, the Democratic Party, and the A.D.A., which might be termed a Socialist party as the British Labour Party is a Socialist party.

The Republican Party is split between the Conservatives and the Moderns. President Eisenhower does not recognize the cleavage, and that is his misfortune because he had recognized it and dealt with it properly, there would have been no cleavage. That, however, no longer matters as he will be far from politics in three years and will be decreasingly political during the intervening period. The vote of Congress on a number of measures indicates the President's decreasing capacity to lead his own party.

The cleavage, however, does matter to such ambitious men as Vice President Richard Nixon, and Sen. William M. Knowland, each of whom will be a candidate for President, and for the large number of Modern Republicans who have emerged from the New Deal to manage a party which they opposed prior to 1952 and from which they will be booted out should Sherman Adams cease to be the Mayor of the Palace.

It does matter to those businessmen who developed an im with the Eisenhower Administration and who, during the next three years, will surely become targets for attack not only by Democrats and A.D.A. elements but by Conservative Republicans who refuse to forget how the businessmen betrayed Sen. Robert A. Taft and how they turned on Sen. Joe McCarthy and how they subsidized and financed the very groups that are working for the destruction of the capitalist system which benefited them but which no longer means to them free, competitive enterprise, but government subsidies and government contracts to keep them out of bankruptcy.

The cleavage within the Democratic Party is not very different in spirit, although the Mason and Dixon Line complex alters the situation somewhat. Northern Democrats divide as the Republicans divide, but Southern Democrats are too absorbed in the problems of states rights and integration to worry about much else. Out of this session of Congress, Lyndon Johnson has emerged as the principal figure, a capable leader who has cleverly so restrained the opposition that it has succeeded in winning most of the advantages from legislative victories.

However, Johnson has suffered from a heart attack and whether the country will want to risk having another cardiac in the White House will develop over the next three years. As it stands now, the Democrats have only one other candidate, John Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson having expended himself beyond recourse. The so-called Liberal Democrats, particularly in the Park Avenue canyons of New York and in the Bohemian Greenwich Village, still regard Stevenson as some kind of intellectual Brigham Young who will lead them into the desert of great hope. But that is dying out, too.

John Kennedy has shown himself to be a politician of capability and he has a strong sense of public relations, his current publicity being the best in recent years. He has a youthful outlook and an independent pocketbook, which matter greatly.

It is observable that the Liberal Democrats seem to be angered by the course of events and play at small games which often remind one of the little intrigues practised by fellow-travelers in the 1930's to make them appear like great figures in the Revolution. But the fact is that the Communists never admitted them into the party. No matter how great their activity, they were always outsiders. In many respects, A.D.A. Democrats remain outsiders, resisted but used by the professionals.

Eyes May Trouble Youngsters

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Early recognition and prompt correctional treatment of any visual difficulties a youngster might have is the best way of protecting his eyesight. It's also one of the best means of protecting his reading ability, his school grades and of staying off a distinct possibility for a poor reader—the threat of juvenile delinquency.

Yet it is often an extremely difficult job to recognize an eye defect in a child. You can't expect the youngster himself to complain of ocular difficulties; he just won't do it.

So parents must be on the lookout for the telltale signs that might indicate seeing difficulties.

We have licked one vicious eye enemy, the long feared "babes' sore eyes," a blinding condition caused by unhygienic conditions present at birth.

Now this doesn't mean that a child's eyes are perfectly safe until he begins to strain them by reading too much. Quite the contrary, you've got to be especially alert for eye troubles during infancy.

If there is a familial eye disease, prenatal maternal disease or if the baby was premature, then you've got to keep an even closer check.

What should you look for?

Well, perhaps the eyes themselves may not appear healthy. Swollen, red or encrusted eyelids with recurring sties, crossed eyes or uneven position of the eyes, inflamed and watery eyes, or constant rapid motion of the eyeballs mean the eyes deserve attention.

Other signs of possible trouble include: aimless rolling of the eyes in infancy, frowning or squinting when looking at distant objects, tilting or twisting the head when looking at things, holding objects too closely, a marked sensitivity to light, frequent rubbing of the eyes, attempts to brush away a blur with the hand or stumbling over small objects.

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. Only signed letters will be used.

Dear Sir:

It is fair time again and the youth of our county are anxiously awaiting the time when they may display the fruits of their labors of the past year. Without a fair there would be few ways of showing the public the worth while things taught through 4-H and other organizations.

You may not know that 4-H is no longer just for rural girls and boys, but is fast becoming popular in the cities. Circleville has four clubs and many new clubs are being formed each year. Here is one of the best methods of combating juvenile delinquency in this country.

You will find that a 4-H member takes his pledge of Head, Heart, Hands, and Health to the bettering of his home, community, and country very seriously.

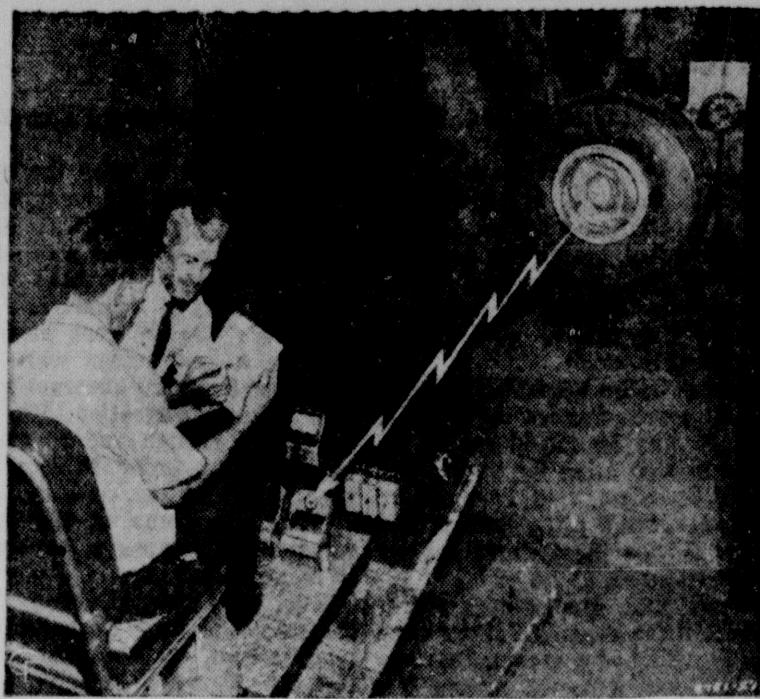

If you could check every 4-H member you would find very few, if any, juvenile delinquents among them. 4-H teaches the healthy, wholesome way of life and fits every member for assuming the role of a responsible citizen.

Without a fair we could not enlighten the public as to the benefits of 4-H and other youth activities. To survive, a fair must have the whole-hearted backing of the community where it is situated. Ours has the usual growing pains of any fair but we have an excellent location and with you, the citizens, behind us the future looks bright.

Last year our 4-H club started a drive to beautify and improve our Fairgrounds. We interviewed makers and invited them to make suggestions for improvement. Several clubs have pledged their support, but what we need is the support of every interested citizen and organization in Pickaway County.

We have a new fair manager who is capable of making our fair one of the best in Ohio but his operations are limited due to insufficient funds. We interviewed Mr. Cook at a recent club meeting and found that he has far-reaching and sensible ideas and plans for improvement, but he will need public backing.

Have you taken a look at our Fairgrounds recently? If you have you will notice many small improvements such as cleaner grounds, fence rows, and some new hard top roads. Mr. Cook and the fair board plan to do some badly-needed landscaping around the Coliseum and other buildings. They will need good bulbs and shrubbery for flower beds, trees of good quality for future shade and many other things along with financial support which could be donated by garden club members and citizens who are interested in the future of our fair.

Our fair has been a "SLEEPING BEAUTY." Will you help to awaken it?

Vast Shuffle Due in State Liquor Stores

More Efficiency Said
Goal of System To Classify Outlets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sweeping reorganization is in the works for Ohio's retail liquor stores.

State Liquor Director Robert B. Krupansky said the changes will provide better service for customers of about 300 outlets.

Plans call for establishing 50 to 60 "A" stores stocking all brands of potables sold by the state and seeing that they are available at all times.

Such stores will be located in cities where the volume of business warrants, officials explained. They said final determination of locations has not been made.

Other classifications will be "B" stores handling a general line of the most popular brands and "C" stores catering to the demand in their particular localities.

Changes will be based on sales records to eliminate overstocking of slow-moving brands and to assure customers they need not accept substitutes for their favorites or wait for supplies to be renewed.

Krupansky said all combination wholesale-retail stores will become "A" stores. A few others in that category will cater only to retail trade. He said plans assured "A" stores for all major cities.

Where only "B" and "C" stores are located, customers will be able to order brands not in stock and obtain them in a few days. Such transfers present transportation and accounting problems that are being worked out, he added.

Included in the program are plans to establish new stores in shopping centers at Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus, Dayton, Cincinnati, Middletown and Newark. Rents, generally on the increase, are comparable in the centers with other locations, officials said.

As three to five-year leases on present stores expire, officials plan to seek more convenient locations with parking space wherever changes appear advantageous. Many stores will not move because they are well located or because more desirable sites just are not available, the director said.

Already protests are being received by the liquor department from merchants near some established stores. They fear a change in location might hurt their business by diverting customers to other areas, officials explained.

Recent surveys bear out reports of various supervisors that evening store hours on Fridays and Saturdays are unwarranted by sales volume in many locations, the director reported.

He said such stores soon will not remain open an extra two hours after the regular 7 p. m. closing on other weekdays. Final determinations have not been made, he added.

Krupansky estimated that a 7 p. m. closing for such stores throughout the week would save the state about a half million dollars in overtime payments to employees. Stores open at 11 a. m.

The 9 p. m. closing on Fridays and Saturdays began more than a year ago under the previous administration in the hope of increasing sales.

Proposed changes in store hours and locations, along with "dressed up" interiors, are part of general liquor department changes being made by the new director who took over last January.

"It's a matter of good business practices and better service to the public," said Krupansky who directs the state monopoly averaging more than a million dollars in sales daily.

85,000,000 Americans Find Fun at Fairs

By DEANE AND DAVID HELLER
Central Press Association
Correspondents

WASHINGTON — As the hot blasts of summer temper a little into approaching autumn's clear crispness, it becomes county fair time for millions of Americans.

According to the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, there now are 2,153 state and county fairs in America. Nearly 2,100 of these are county fairs, Secretary Frank Kingman says. An estimated 85 million Americans view this plethora of fairs and an uncounted number, "running well into the hundreds of thousands," of persons participate.

NOBODY knows which of these fairs is the oldest, Kingman says, but the Topsfield, Mass., fair and the Three County fair in Northampton, Mass., both born in 1818, seem to share honors for the oldest fairs still active.

One of the most American of institutions, the county fair is a time of nostalgic fun, family reunions, carnival rides, ferris wheels and merry-go-rounds; of admiring magnificent prize animals and the cream of American farm produce.

It well may be that county fairs are the last refuge of good, old-fashioned American home cooking, of delectable cakes and pies made without a mixer; of horse-pulling, corn-husking, horseshoe pitching and plowing contests. In short, a flashback to a time before the automobile and television reduced us all to the lamentable sameness of peas in a pod.

Bobby Windham, 11, of Damascus, Md., holds his baby Yorkshires.

Agricultural experts credit county fairs with playing an important role, nothing less than improving the American standard of living. Farmers being the rugged individualists they are, Farmer Brown will work like a Trojan to see that his sheep or vegetables take a blue ribbon coveted by Farmer Smith down the road. Multiply this competition by a million times and you have one of the secrets of the amazing productivity of American farms.

The largest county fairs are the Los Angeles County fair in Pomona (the second largest fair in the nation) and the Clay County fair of Spencer, Ia.

Even sophisticated denizens of the nation's capital aren't immune to the attractions of an old-fashioned county fair. The Montgomery County fair, Maryland's largest, is held annually in Gaithersburg, Md., near Washington, and it attracts plenty of blue-ribbon Washington officialdom among its 100,000 visitors.

IT MAY surprise some to learn that one of the most successful farmers in Montgomery county, Maryland, is United States Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon. He plans to exhibit more than 100 prize chickens from his Poolesville farm at the fair opening Aug. 24. Senator Morse also will exhibit two prize examples of livestock, an imported Devon bull, Fordston Shaver, and an imported Devon cow, Potheridge Countess 5th. Both were champions of the Louisiana State fair in 1957.

Many may disagree with the senator's politics, but few would dispute his ability as a farmer, or his love for county fairs.

Different Routine Is Used by Gunman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"How much will you give me for this gun?" Bill Lutz, 30, asked the hotel clerk Tuesday night.

"I don't need a gun," clerk Harold Walters replied.

"Well, I need money," Lutz said, "and this is loaded."

A hotel guest entered and Lutz left quietly. He went to a tavern next door and repeated his routine to bartender Jame McGranahan.

Officer James Ward appeared just as McGranahan, who didn't need a gun either, found one forced in his ribs. Ward disarmed Lutz and booked him on a charge of attempted robbery.

The gun was a starter's gun with blanks.

Bogus Detective Escapes with $418 In Genuine Cash

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The man said he was a detective named Wright and he was looking for counterfeit bills.

Bar owner Ernest A. Rose looked at the man's police identification card and said he didn't have any funny money.

Wright said his superiors down at headquarters wanted to see Rose's paper money so would be please bundle it up and come along.

Rose put $418 in a box and called a cab. After shooting out his last customer, he went outside to meet Wright — but all he saw was the departing taxi and his departing $418.

When Rose hurried to University Station Tuesday to report these strange doings, he talked to a detective Wright — Detective Robert Wright, whose identification card was real.

Real Life Fails To Duplicate TV

TOLEDO (AP)—In the story on television, two cowboys were saved from hanging when the ropes around their necks broke.

A reenactment here by 11-year-old James Duncan almost cost him his life.

James and his 7-year-old brother, Luther, were supposed to be taking a bath. But, trying to imitate the cowboy actor he had seen, James tied a rubber shower hose around his neck, looped it over a water pipe and jumped off the washbowl.

The hose failed to break. The boy is in a hospital in fair condition.

Mrs. Ray Davis Introduces Monday Club Theme

Mrs. Deming Names Year's Committees

Mrs. Ray Davis was the speaker when Monday Club convened in the Trustees Room of Memorial Hall after the summer recess. Mrs. Davis was introduced by Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer. The paper that Mrs. Davis read introduced the theme of the year, "The Great Eventful Present Hides the Past".

"Most of us," said Mrs. Davis, "can grasp the idea that this planet (our home for millions of years) can be rendered void of life—not only our lives but life itself, plant life, animal life can be destroyed in almost the Biblical twinkling of an eye".

Mrs. Davis stated that this was a new situation for mankind. "Never before," she said, "in all these millions of years of life on earth, have men had to face up to this kind of future."

Mrs. Davis quoted Carl Sandburg's "Remembrance Rock". She reminded her listeners of Justice Windom's words to the American People, "You may bury the bones of men and later dig them up to find they have moldered into a thin white ash that crumbles in your fingers. But their ideas won. Their visions came through. . . . they live in the sense that their dream is on the face of living men and women today."

Mrs. Davis stated that Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature was not so optimistic in an editorial written a year ago and now famous. Cousins wrote: "It is no longer true that no force can kill a book or work of art—obliteration can do it! Ultimate power that fulfills itself in an instant can do it."

Mrs. Davis's concluding quotation was from Sir James Jeans, "As inhabitants of the earth we are living in the very beginning of time. We have come into being in the first glory of dawn and a day of almost unthinkable length stretches before us with unimaginable opportunities for accomplishment . . . our contemporaries of today will appear as dim heroic figures who fought their way through jungles of ignorance, error, superstition, to discover truth, to learn how to harness the forces of nature and to make a world worthy for mankind to live in."

Miners See No Inflation for 3 Vital Metals

Copper, Lead, Zinc Prices Fall While Living Costs Climb

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living goes on rising drearily in many of its phases but to the men who mine and sell copper, lead and zinc inflation today is just a myth.

Prices of the three metals have tumbled sharply from their peak. And the mining industry, meeting today in Salt Lake City, is asking Washington for help to halt the debacle. Output is being cut back, work weeks shortened, mines closed.

Copper's dizzy plunge has taken it from its European high of 55 1/2 cents a pound in March 1956 to its present shaky state where it can be bought in New York as low as 25 cents a pound and on the London Metal Exchange for 23 cents. At the start of 1957 the price here was 35 cents.

Big consumers still appear to be living off their stocks while supplies mount around the world. How did the wide swing in prices in the last 18 months come about?

Mining men admit that the top price was partly a fluke and they expected a drop. But they had hoped to hold the price line well above its present low point. The sharp climb in price in 1955 and early 1956 came about this way:

Demand was growing as America swung into its big boom and business set off its record expansion drive and the government was buying for its defense stockpile. Demand was even higher in Western Europe where its industrial boom was riding high.

But supply of copper was cut in 1955 by strikes in the United States, Rhodesia and Chile. In all, work stoppages kept 150,000 tons of the metal from being mined.

The critical shortage and the unprecedented demand sent producer prices climbing — in the U. S. to 46 cents a pound, higher in Europe. This brought out a lot more production in high-cost mines and the opening of new mines.

Late in 1956 world supplies began to climb. Here the auto, appliance and home building industries started to buy less copper than they had during their big 1955 boom.

Copper fabricators, who had been scrambling for metal wherever they could find it, began shipping out less copper in end products than they were taking in and stocks mounted. Manufacturers, who also had been scrambling for metal, found they had more on hand than the current sales of their own product justified and they cut back on orders.

The three big copper producers here — Phelps Dodge, Kennecott and Anaconda — played a delaying action on price cutting. But the custom smelters began steadily lowering their prices.

The smelters supply about 15 per cent of the total used by the fabricators. The smelters buy ore and scrap and refine it, and they do some processing of ore for others on a fee basis. The smelters want to keep their refined metal moving out steadily, so in a falling market they undersell the producers. They have been keeping their price at one to two cents a pound lower than the big producers.

Chile has been mining more copper than she can sell. Northern Rhodesia has been cutting

Bricker-Backers Sure Solon Can Win Third Term Easily

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men around Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) are confident he will try for a third term next year. They are equally sure he can beat any Democrat.

"The senator hasn't told anybody whether he will run—not even his wife," a Bricker aide said today. "But the office staff is operating on the assumption that he will run and has told him so."

"He has said nothing to disabuse us of the assumption." Actually, Bricker is pictured as having been pretty much undecided until about six weeks ago—and for this reason: He wanted to be pretty sure he would win.

"Certainly, he wouldn't want to run and get licked at the end of a long career," said a man particularly close to Bricker.

"Regardless of situations, even a good candidate can get licked. Now it all looks favorable."

Bricker's aides regard it as a certainty that if he runs he will encounter no serious opposition in the GOP primary.

Not even the recent upset victory in Wisconsin by a Democrat, Sen. William Proxmire, has altered Bricker's optimism about winning.

"We see no parallel between Wisconsin and Ohio," the aide said. "The Democrats are saying this (Wisconsin victory) was a revolt on the part of the farmers. 'We don't see it that way. We think the Republicans just didn't bother to vote."

The tall, white haired Ohioan—just turned 64 and reported in excellent health—is described as having a number of reasons for wanting to put in six more years as a senator.

Like most senators, he seems to like his job, even though he found it occasionally frustrating. More than once, he has been at odds with President Eisenhower.

New Agency Urged By CARE Chief

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — A government auxiliary agency, something like the old Reconstruction Finance Corp. or similar organizations, would go a long way toward helping the nation's farmers, says the president of CARE, international food agency.

Murray D. Lincoln of Columbus, Ohio, said the governmental agency is needed to help the food and fiber industries finance and set up cooperatives. He said the nation should "start now to build cooperatives stretching all the way from oil wells and atomic power to the dinner table."

most notably on the Bricker Amendment.

"Anyway, you don't let your friends down," an aide said. "He is regarded as a stalwart leader of the conservatives, not only in Ohio but in the rest of the country."

"People are always telling him: 'You're going to run again, aren't you?' and he will reply: 'I haven't decided yet.'"

Bricker also has accumulated considerable seniority in the Senate, not only in committee but on the floor as well. His staff doubts that he would be willing to accept GOP leadership in the Senate, replacing the retiring Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), on the grounds that the job would be too confining.

But his aides do think he would be receptive to the idea of heading the Republican conference in the Senate, a group that decides party policy.

As to when he will announce his determination to run for reelection, aides think that will probably be about the time the identity of his Democratic opponent becomes apparent—possibly about Christmas time.

Will he run on the record of President Eisenhower? "The senator," an aide replied

Ex-Gov. Herbert's Son Named as State Aide

COLUMBUS (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe has appointed John D. Herbert of Columbus, son of former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, as an assistant attorney general.

Herbert, 27, whose father is now an Ohio Supreme Court judge, will handle highway department and industrial commission matters for Saxbe. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and was admitted to the Ohio Bar last month.

prices recently to move its unsold metal.

With world prices lower than here, American producers and smelters are having a hard time maintaining a price they contend rising operating costs demand.

They will ask Congress for a four to six cent tariff to go into effect when a peril price point of 30 to 32 cents is reached. Prices are well below that now.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My wife divorced me two years ago, after we had been parted four years and now I am more depressed than ever. I've tried to get interested in other women, but always find myself comparing them to my wife—to their disadvantage. I've had to disappear a couple of times, to outwit certain matrimonial designs.

I may truthfully say my wife is the only woman I have loved or probably ever will love. She is beautiful, charming, intelligent; a good mother and housekeeper; an exceptional business woman; an accomplished musician. In short, the most talented, interesting woman I've ever known. Yet in our 10 years' marriage, I ran around all night—drinking and gambling. I stood her up; and worst of all, struck her.

I am insanely jealous of her—jealous even of our children. They obviously love her more than they did me—a thought that troubled me not at all, however, compared to the thought that she loved them more than me. I can't stand to see her dance with other men, though I often dance with other women.

Sometimes I think I hit her because she was always so self-contained and self-sufficient—yet I couldn't stand a helpless whining shrinking violet. She never nagged; we had few quarrels; when I was sober, our sex life was completely compatible.

Nowadays I take her to dinner or a show, and we get along fine unless someone telephones or speaks to her. Then I've got to know all about it—a third-degree that always ends with my insulting her and leaving in a wild rage.

Nig Is a Nag Who Likes Plug

PONCA CITY, Okla. (P)—Nig is a nag that likes a plug.

He is a tobacco-chewing horse owned by farmer Jim Morris who said the animal got the habit a long time ago.

Morris, 72, said Nig got the nicotine habit one day when he bummed a little weed off his master in the barnyard. Morris said Nig at first didn't appear to care for the tidbit.

"But I guess Nig thought he could stick with it if I could," Morris said. Now, when Morris takes a fresh chew, he has to share it with Nig.

I become a wild man with no regard for anyone or anything.

Until I am back on speaking terms with her I suffer—and I do mean suffer. I know this is rotten stupid behavior on my part. How does one get over his ex-wife?

E. F.

DEAR E. F.: In your long letter, here condensed, you say: "I've had psychiatric care; it didn't cure my jealousy or my misery. Running away won't help. I spent two years on the West Coast—and a fortune in long distance calls and air mail letters."

Nothing will help except taking yourself in hand and applying the techniques of self-control and rational self-management—which is the last thing on earth you'd choose to do, if you weren't driven to it, by suffering. But believe me, the "willed" practice of self-control is your only defense against self-torture—your only "out" from the nightmare your life has become.

Where and how to begin? My advice is to get acquainted with, and make use of, the comparatively new development in psychotherapy known as Recovery, Inc.

This movement, pioneered by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low at the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, has permanent headquarters at 116 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago 3, Illinois—with auxiliary groups in many cities, towns and neighborhoods throughout the nation.

A good deal has been written—and, so far as I know, all of it favorable—about the morale-building worth of Recovery, Inc. For example, my file includes articles from the Saturday Evening Post, the periodical Hospital Progress and Jesuit weekly, America, over a period of the last few years, giving a strongly affirmative picture of Recovery, Inc.'s achievements.

In 1950, the Christopher Publishing House, Boston, Mass., published Dr. Low's text book "Mental Health Through Will Training" ($5)—which may be ordered through any book store. Hospital Progress calls attention to this book as a source of instruction, telling the patient how to "spot" his trouble-symptoms and cancel them out.

Invest in ownership of the book. And, if possible, get copies of the articles aforementioned. Perhaps they're obtainable, in reprint form, from the office headquarters of Recovery, Inc.—address given above.

Lusser said the space ship would be a sort of guided missile. He said a simple one requires great effort and a big ship may be a thousand times more complex.

Yankees Get Hurts, Chisox Get Defeats

Leading Bronx Bombers Rained Out, Gain as Pale Hose Fall Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
American League pennant race at a glance: New York's Yankees collect injuries, but Chicago's White Sox collect defeats.

It was that way again Tuesday night as the Yankees, rained out in a game with Cleveland, regained a six-game lead when the White Sox took a 7-4 beating at Boston.

Bill Skowron, who pulled a back muscle while working at home Tuesday, was on the bench with Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra—the Yankees' three top RBI men—as the champs sloshed through the better part of four frames before the game finally was called.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves moved closer to a World Series date with the Yankees by defeating Pittsburgh 4-3 while second-place St. Louis battled Philadelphia through 14 innings before winning 4-3.

Third-place Brooklyn skidded eight games behind with a 9-2 thumping from the Chicago Cubs, and Cincinnati defeated the New York Giants 4-1 in the other NL games.

The rest of the AL schedule also was washed out.

The Braves were out-hit 12-8, but got the job done with the help of Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews, who had five hits between them. They paired home runs in the fourth—Aaron's 40th, Mathew's 31st—for a 3-1 lead, and Mathews added an RBI single in the seventh that nailed a 15th victory for Lew Burdette.

Whammy Douglas lost it, giving up the two home runs that gave the Braves 182 for the season—matching their all-time high set in 1955.

The Cardinals continued their big try on Ken Boyer's bases-loaded single in the 14th—which dumped Robin Roberts to his first 20-defeat year.

Lindy McDaniel, Lloyd Merritt, Billy Muffett and Larry Jackson pitched six shutout relief frames for the Cards after the Phils finally overhauled a 3-0 St. Louis lead and chased starter Sam Jones with an eighth-inning run. McDaniel was the winner for a 14-8 record.

Cardinal Stan Musial showed up as a pinchhitter—the two clubs used 40 players—and hit into a forceout.

Rookie Barry Latman and Jim McDonald shut out the Red Sox on three hits over the last five frames for Chicago, but the Red Sox had nailed it with five runs in the third, three on Jim Piersall's 17th home run. Tom Brewer won his 16th, but didn't snare it for cure until Ike Delock, Boston's third reliever in the ninth, fanned Sherm Lollar and got Ron Jackson on a pop with the bases loaded and three runs already home. Bob (No-Hit) Keegan lost it.

Rookie Dick Drott became the first Cub pitcher to go all the way against Brooklyn this season, winning his 14th with a seven-hitter. Ernie Banks drove in four runs with his 35th and 36th homers and Bobby Morgan added a solo homer in the Cubs' 13-hit barrage off loser Sandy Koufax and three relievers.

A two-run homer by Joe Taylor, junking Johnny Antonelli's two-hit shutout in the sixth, backed up Brooks Lawrence's three-hit pitching for the Redlegs.

It was the fifth victory in seven games for the Cardinals, but it didn't do much more than prolong the inevitable. As it is, the Braves now have "12" for a magic number, as do the Yankees, incidentally.

Any combination of Milwaukee victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 12 gives the Braves their first pennant since 1948. You can use the same formula in figuring the Yankees' third consecutive flag.

Michigan State '11' Seeks Attendance Record, Crown

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—In one full swoop, Michigan State's football Spartans could break all home attendance records and win their first undisputed Big Ten title.

The first item is a cinch. Spartan Stadium, with expansion of its main stands, this season will seat a capacity 76,000. Last year, the capacity was 60,000.

The second item may be subject to considerable debate. Principally from Michigan Oct. 12 and from Minnesota Nov. 16.

But Duffy Daugherty, starting his fourth head coaching season, concedes he has the horses to go all the way in the forthcoming race in which the Spartans also meet Indiana, Purdue, Illinois and Wisconsin in conference play.

"We may have even more good football players than we did in 1955 when we went to the Rose Bowl," Daugherty said. "To win the Big Ten championship, though, you need more than good players. You need great ones. We're hoping we have four or five great ones."

Injuries beset the Spartans on all sides last season when it tied for fourth place in the conference.

The "great players" Daugherty has in mind are four lads who were phenomenal sophomores on the 1955 team—halfback Walt Kowalczyk, guard Dan Currie, tackle Pat Burke and end Dave Kaiser—and a fine junior halfback, Blanche Martin.

Gurrie now is switched to center and is described by Daugherty as the team's best all-around player. Kowalczyk, Burke and Kaiser seem completely mended from injuries which sidelined them last season.

Martin, a 6-foot, 190-pounder, is State's 1957 version of Clarence Peaks, great left halfback, whose midseason injury brought a premature finish of a certain All-America star.

Daugherty emphasized that his major problem is finding "the right combination of our 11 best players."

His No. 1 backfield of the moment has Jim Ninowski, a poised, seasoned performer at quarterback; Kowalczyk and Martin at halfback; and Don Gilbert, another veteran, at fullback.

The first string line, swift and aggressive, includes Kaiser and 225-pound Sammy Williams at ends; Burke and peppery Francis O'Brien at tackles; 225-pound veteran Ellison Kelly and scrappy John Middleton at guards; and Currie at center.

The second outfit, and you can't count any of them out of starting jobs, includes Tony Kolodziej and Larry Harding at ends; Les Rutledge and Palmer Pyle at tackles; Don Wright and Cliff La Roes, guards; Don Berger, center; Mike Panitch, quarterback; Art Johnson and soph Bob Berich halfbacks; and Don Arend, fullback.

Robinson Plans Joust With Ring Chieftains

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson plans a court fight with the New York State Athletic Commission after his ring battle with Carmen Basilio on Sept. 23.

Robinson said he'll challenge the commission's official contract form for fights.

"I think it's time somebody made the commission show cause that it has a right to compel a fighter to give away his constitutional rights to a promoter," Robinson declared.

Ashville Unit Opens Friday

Meets Mt. Sterling On Tiger Gridiron

Ashville High School's Broncos, fielding a 11-man football team this season, is busy putting final touches on pre-season practice in preparation for Friday night's contest with Mt. Sterling.

Kickoff time is slated for 8 p. m. at the Circleville High School gridiron. The CHS Tigers are slated for a contest at Athens.

According to Coach Russ Gregg, his gridders appear in good shape for the season opener. Coach Gregg said he was pleased with the Broncos' 14-0 win over Millersport in a preview game at Frankfort Friday night.

The Broncos, winners of the Pickaway County six-man grid title for the last two seasons, entered the newly-formed Darby Valley League this year. Other teams in this circuit include Jonathansville, Mt. Sterling, West Jefferson, and Madison South.

Coach Gregg said his squad is a big one with plenty of speed. With a few games experience the Bronco gridders are expected to furnish some keen competition in the League, he added.

Rookie Aids Redlegs in 4-1 Victory

CINCINNATI (P)—Joe Taylor, the young rookie outfielder who was a minor leaguer until last month, is beginning to get his feet on the ground for Cincinnati.

Taylor, with a reputation as a slugger, bashed his second home run for the Reds Tuesday night, a two-run poke that helped the Reds get past the New York Giants, 4-1. The young outfielder, who was with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League until last month, has quickly run up a .272 average in the 24 Redleg games in which he has appeared.

With muscle-man Gus Bell sidelined indefinitely with a foot injury, Taylor seems sure to see steady action in the Redleg outfield in the final 15 games.

His big poke in the sixth inning Tuesday night was the first time the Reds had been able to do much with the pitching of Johnny Antonelli.

The Giant hurler doled out two thrifty hits up to the sixth, but then Johnny Temple walked and Taylor lifted his homer over the left field wall.

The Reds went on to ring up a single insurance marker in the seventh and eighth innings. The

Martinez Favored To Defeat Baker

CHICAGO (P)—New York's Larry Baker tries to solidify his claim as the ring's upset king of the year in his bout tonight with Vince Martinez, No. 4 welterweight contender.

Martinez, a 28-year-old slugger with 28 knockouts to his credit, is a 12-5 choice in the nationally televised bout at Chicago Stadium. The Paterson, N.J., battler, who scored two impressive victories this year over former champion Kid Gavilan, will be making his first Chicago showing since he knocked Chuck Davey into retirement three years ago.

First came when Roy McMillan drew a walk, reached second on a sharp single by Brooks Lawrence and scored on Temple's safety.

Singles by Frankie Robinson and Wally Post got the eighth inning rally going and George Crowe belted a sacrifice fly for the score.

Ladies Golf Slate Changed

A change in schedule for Thursday's Ladies Day at the Pickaway Country Club was announced today.

Lunch will be served at 11:30 a. m., with tee-off time slated for noon. Previously lady golfers competed on the links in the mornings, followed by a noon lunch.

Chick Evans Proves Age No Handicap

BROOKLINE, Mass. (P)—Chick Evans, still winning championship golf matches at the age of 67, hopes to prove golf is a game for all ages. And he'd like to see players with an age span of 30 or 40 years have a chance to win the National Amateur championship, not just "the young and strong."

Evans, still eager to win, is holding up his end very well so far, although he maintains he has no right to go any further in the 57th title tournament at the Country Club. The young and strong are doing pretty well, too.

As the 57th championship tournament entered the two-rounds daily stage today, 15 of the 64 remaining players were 21 years old or younger. Not the least of them was Ward Wettlaufer, a 21-year-old Hamilton College junior, who turned in the most resounding upset so far when he knocked out popular Billy Joe Patton on the 18th hole of their match.

Evans' 4 and 2 victory over Lloyd Pitzer of Waukegan, Ill., Tuesday was his 56th in 45 National Amateur championships. He faces left handed Alfred Sams of Macon, Ga. today.

Argentine Hopeful Scores KO in Ninth

DENVER (P)—Argentina's 22-year-old hopeful for the heavyweight title, Alex Miteff, blamed local mile high air and heavy gloves for a sluggish performance on the way to a knockout victory over Johnny Holman Tuesday night.

"I was too slow at first," Miteff said in talking over his knockout of the 204-pound Chicagoan in 2:32 of the ninth round.

Miteff, 205, was almost kayoed in the sixth when Holman caught him with a series of rights.

Six-Man Football Preview Fair Feature Thursday P.M.

The county's six-man football preview will be held Thursday instead of Friday afternoon as previously announced. The pigskin show will be one of the highlights of the Pickaway County Fair.

Each of the six teams in the loop is slated to battle for two quarters at the Fairgrounds field, located in the middle of the race track.

Here is the preview schedule: Darby vs Jackson, 2 p. m.; Amanda vs Stoutsville, 2:15 p. m.; Walnut vs Pickaway, 2:30 p. m.; Darby vs Stoutsville, 2:45 p. m.; Jackson vs Pickaway, 3 p. m.; Amanda vs Walnut, 3:15 p. m.

Regular season play is scheduled to get underway September 21. Three games will be played each Saturday night at the Fairgrounds during the season.

PRE-SEASON indications are that local fans again will see some top-notch six-man grid competition. Ashville, winner of the county title the past two years, has entered 11-man competition this season.

So far all six teams have been undergoing stiff drills in preparation for the preview and season openers. Most squads have several lettermen returning, indicating that the race probably will be a tight one.

Buckeyes Get Stiff Drills

COLUMBUS (P)—Ohio State concentrated on punting drills at Tuesday's football practice.

Coach Woody Hayes said the drills were held to give linemen practice in getting down the field to cover the receiver. Hayes said the Buckeyes need more work on defense but that for the time being emphasis will be on offense.

Chamber Hears Dayton Man Call for Strong Leadership

"Your community is what you make it—no more, no less."

That was the message of Harry Hall, executive vice president of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, who spoke at last night's meeting of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce in the Methodist Church.

Hall told the 60-some Chamber members present that we need a reappraisal of our stake in the community.

He said, "Every person in Circleville has a stake in the community—through property, skills, friendship or maybe security. Since you all have a stake in the community, it's logical that you should strengthen it, make it more secure and satisfying."

"If you want to strengthen the community you need to strengthen the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber can be your assurance of a favorable business climate so that Circleville can hold its own in competition with other cities."

HALL DECLARED that "You can't stay where you are by holding your own. If you are not progressing, you are going backwards."

He said there are two main problems facing the city—larger families and urbanization. Both, he declared, are signs of growth, and growth means problems.

"You can have sound community growth when the people here feel confidence in the community leadership. The Chamber of Commerce is the best vehicle for community leadership," Hall stated. "Without the Chamber of Commerce the community is like a seed on the wind, its destiny left to the winds of chance."

"Strengthened by the leadership of the Chamber, Circleville can realize its potential," the speaker said. He pointed out that the Chamber can cause the right things to happen. The basic idea of the Chamber is to work for the community as a whole, not merely as an association of businessmen, Hall explained.

He said a Chamber needs management, participating voluntary leadership, a good program and adequate financing.

"Too few men are willing to make the personal sacrifice needed to lead the community. However, the top men in the community—men with prestige, depth and experience will make the Chamber of Commerce a success."

The Dayton executive said that "Your program is your product. You need a program geared to your own needs, immediate and long range, real, but visionary, constantly changing to meet the needs as they arise."

HE CALLED on the members to determine the needs of the community first, then go out and get the money to accomplish the ends desired. "Don't base your financial plans on past practice."

"Give me the leadership in this room," he concluded, "without prejudice and politics and greed, and I'll give you miracles."

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Twelve years ago Oscar Hovland lost his billfold on a bus near the Lockheed Air Terminal. He said it contained $85 and identification papers.

"I found this on a bus," Adolph Nolte told Burbank police Tuesday. "Near Lockheed." He threw down a billfold.

The wallet contained $35 and Hovland's identification cards.

Hovland shrugged off the mystery—and the missing $50—with this comment:

"I guess we can write it off to inflation."

Work Right Drive Planned

Statewide Group Sets Up Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A statewide organization to work for enactment of an Ohio "right to work" law has been incorporated, with headquarters in Toledo.

S. D. Cadwallader of Cincinnati, chairman of the group, said incorporation papers have been filed with the secretary of state under the name of the Ohio Labor Committee for Right to Work, Inc.

First meeting of the organization was held in Toledo at the home of Harold Allen, who was designated as vice president. Other officers elected were Lloyd Risor, president, and Matt Brandon, treasurer, both of Toledo.

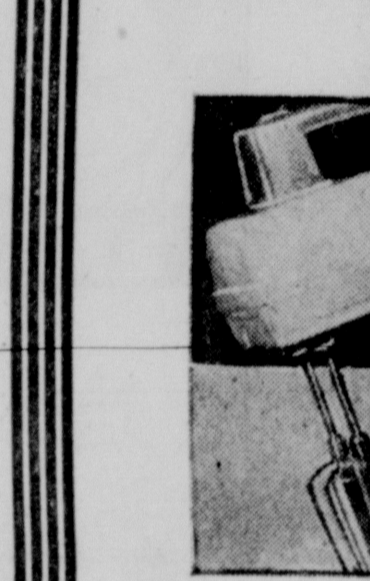

Brandon reported that support for the organization will be solicited on a voluntary basis. He is a member of both the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the United Railroad Operating Crafts Union.

The leaders of the organization claim they have petitions bearing names of 1,000 union members or former members calling for a right to work law in Ohio. But they have not decided what procedure the group will adopt in the drive for enactment of such a law. Spokesmen said a law could be brought about by writing the prohibition into the state's constitution by a statewide vote initiated by petitions, inducing the Legislature to pass a state law prohibiting compulsory union membership as a condition of employment.

Proposed right to work legislation has been introduced in the last six sessions of the Legislature, but has never come close to adoption and usually it has not received committee hearings.

Young Dr. Reed, who became acting director of the Washington zoo in November, 1956, upon the retirement of Dr. William Mann, first started thinking about age levels after taking numerous groups of youngsters on guided tours through the gardens.

Advice: Give Children Zoo Experiences in Small Doses

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Theodore H. Reed, acting director of the National Zoological Gardens, urges parents to give their children zoo experiences in small doses at least once a month.

"It's impossible for a child under 12 to absorb all there is to be seen in one trip," he says. "Even for persons over 12, to go to a major zoo and expect to see everything is impossible."

The zoo, which during the fiscal year just ended, has enjoyed a record four million visitors boasts some 734 species of animals, birds and reptiles and some 3,157 zoo occupants. Dr. Reed believes that zoologically it is one of the best in the country, though architecturally "there is much to be desired."

Quarters for the antelope, for instance, he says, were built in 1898 and cost $3,500. The zoo was started as a collection of live models for artists and taxidermists at the Smithsonian Institution, April 30, 1890. There were bison, antelope, mountain sheep and goats and an elk. It is still under the Smithsonian and is supported by congressional appropriations. Dr. Reed, married and father of Mark, 7, and Mary Alyce, 5, first came to the zoo as a veterinarian in July, 1953.

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upset or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

Woods Kitty Loses Big Opportunity To Become Celebrity

FREMONT, Mich. (AP)—A turn-of-coat skunk has lost his chance to become a star attraction in Fremont High School's biology department.

The striped animal was found in a Fremont residential area several days ago. Its good behavior led wary observers to believe it had been de-scented.

The skunk was turned over to Arthur Biltman, Fremont High School principal, with the suggestion that it might make an interesting specimen for the biology class. Biltman judiciously kept it caged in his backyard pending examination by a veterinarian.

That proved unnecessary. Gary Hall, 10, inadvertently let the skunk out of its cage. When he tried to recapture it . . .

Gary's mother said she had to bathe and bleach her son and burn his clothes.
